

Director Training

Delivered in a comprehensive yet straightforward manner, we highlight the current legal position to your Directors and Senior Management Team, how the law affects them and what the regulators expect.

This definitive half-day course is designed to help your Senior Management Team develop their knowledge with the latest legislation and understand the serious repercussions for non-compliance.

Current course structure includes:

- INDG 417- Director Duties in H&S
- The Health & Safety Offences Act 2008
- The Corporate Manslaughter & Corporate Homicide Act
- s.36 & s.37 under the Health & Safety at Work Act- the specific managers' offences
- HSE Strategy for 2010
- Latest Case Law

This, like all of our courses, reflect current standards and the most up-to-date guidance. We use a mixture of pertinent case-law and scenarios to open up discussion and make your Senior Management Teams understand how this complicated area of legislation can have severe implications for both the company and themselves, if mismanaged.
